The graph shows the relationship between sales and visits over a range of days. The x-axis represents the day, while the y-axis represents the number of visits and sales. The orange area indicates the visits, and the blue area indicates the sales. The graph peaks around day 2.5, indicating a high number of visits and sales during this period.